

Problem Solving

Quality Assistance groups together to solve problems.

Associates are involved in quality improvement activities or projects.

Auditors systematically inspect and examine a quality system to ensure compliance to supplier requirements.

Specialists perform specific functions within a quality initiative, such as statistical analysis or testing.

Technicians perform basic quality tasks to track, analyze, and report on materials, processes and products, ensuring they meet suppliers' quality standards.